FACTS ABOUT CURFEW LAW

In view of recent events the law governing the conduct of children under the age of 15, is here published for the benefit of parents and children. This is the law of the Village and is the extent of the responsibility of parents in so far as village authority is concerned. The State laws governing children is somewhat similar but continues the age of 21 years.

Parents should become familiar with these regulations and try and govern themselves accordingly, which is intended for the good of the younger class and not for their persecution. The law and its enforcement are meant only for good, and not to bring embarrassment and heartache to any families.

In the enforcement of these laws it should be governed by the highest type of judgment on the part of the executives, giving every consideration to the future welfare of all concerned. They are not intended for the exercise of drastic measures nor are they intended to be carelessly thrust aside and infringements allowed to go unheeded.

We have every reason to believe that our officers want to do exactly the right thing and they should be backed up in their acts by the public, and on the other hand the officers are supposed to act with the best and most broad minded purposes in view. The Curfew law, as now appears on the Village records is as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 23.

Forbidding Children from Being Upon Public Streets and Alleys of the Village After Certain Hours.

The Village of Grayling Ordains:

Section 1. No child under the age of fifteen years shall be or remain upon any of the public streets or alleys, nor shall they loiter or linger about any of public buildings or any other public places within said village after eight o'clock standard time in the evening unless accompanied by its parent, guardian, or some adult person who has the child in charge, or unless it has a written permit signed by such parent or guardian, or person having legal custody of such child showing it has been sent upon some lawful errand.

Section 2. The curfew bell of said village shall be tolled at 7:45 o'clock standard time, each evening, as a warning to such children as may be upon such streets, alleys or other public places.

Section 3. Any child under the age above mentioned found upon said streets, alleys or loitering or lingering about any said public buildings or other public places within said village after the hour herein mentioned, unless so accompanied or with such written permit as heretofore specified shall be deemed to have violated this ordinance.

Section 4. No parent, guardian or other person having the legal custody of such child shall negligently suffer or allow it to be upon the streets, alleys or loitering or lingering about any public building or other public places in said village not accompanied as aforesaid or without such written permit as heretofore mentioned after the hour herein specified and such child being on the public streets, alleys, or loitering or lingering about any of the public buildings or public places within said village after said hour shall be prima facie evidence of such negligence.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the village marshal and all village officers to apprehend any such child upon said streets, alleys or loitering or lingering about any such public buildings or places after the hour herein specified who shall not be accompanied by said parent, guardian or adult person or shall not have the written permit herein provided for and shall immediately conduct such child to its home or such other place where its parents, guardian or person having its legal custody may be in said village and place the child in their care.

Section 6. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of section 4 of this ordinance shall be punished, on conviction thereof, by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars and cost of prosecution or ninety days in jail of Crawford county or both such fine and costs and in default in the payment of any fine imposed by virtue thereof may be imprisoned in said jail for a period not exceeding ninety days unless such fine is sooner paid.

DETROIT BOARD OF COMMERCE CONTRIBUTES $1,000.00 TO E. M. T.

The Detroit Board of Commerce has again most pleasingly demonstrated its interest in East Michigan and the East Michigan Tourist association by sending a check for $1,000 to the tourist association.

A director of the board states that he hopes the check will be duplicated with a second one of $1,000 before the season is over. The Detroit board's interest in the industry does not cease with the financial aid as officials of the organization are active throughout the year in advancing and promoting the work of the tourist organization.

In spite of wars and rumors of wars, Europe seems agreed upon one thing, and that is to wait just as long as possible before starting to pay their debts from the last one.

THE NIGHT BEFORE—

THE COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

PROGRAM OF CAROLS 6:30 TO 7:30 P. M.

"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing, Glory to the new born King." Christmas time—the gladdest time of all the year, when we are again reminded of God's message, "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

A Community Christmas tree will be placed on the square at Michigan and Peninsular avenues Thursday night, December 24th and everyone is invited to come and enjoy its radiance and listen to the Christmas carols and other music. The Grayling Band will be present and a choir of many voices. This fine feature is being given by ladies of the Good Fellowship club, assisted by the Village council. The program will begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock and will be finished by 7:30 thus to enable the people to get to their homes for their own Christmas eve.

Mrs. Marius Hanson is chairman of the Community Christmas tree committee and the music is under direction of Mrs. C. G. Clippert. The carols to be sung are as follows: 1—"Hark the Herald Angels Sing." 2—"Little Town of Bethlehem." 3—"Silent Night." 4—"O, Come All Ye Faithful."

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO DISTRIBUTE PRESENTS.

In conjunction with the Community Christmas tree on Thursday night, December 24th, the members of Grayling Lodge Knights of Pythias will distribute the little ones at that time by the distribution of presents to all children between the ages of one and nine years and with good candy and nuts for those up to 12 years of age. A few days invitations will be mailed to the little tots asking them to come to the Christmas tree that night and present their card for a present.

In the work of purchasing toys, dolls, and other presents the Pythians have been generously assisted financially by our manufacturers and merchants. The work of canvassing the city to obtain a list of the children between the ages of one and twelve is now going on and when the glad night comes old Santa will be there with bells on, ready to help children the hearts of the youth of our city.

GOODFELLOWSHIP CLUB NOTES.

The members of the Goodfellowship Club and their guests were very delightfully entertained by Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Clippert at their home Thursday evening. A splendid musical program was rendered by Mrs. Clippert and her father, Mr. E. H. Webb. Every number was greatly appreciated by the guests and at the finish there was a cry for more. Mrs. Clippert has a beautiful coloratura soprano voice while Mr. Webb sings tenor. The two voices blend very beautifully in duets.

Following the program the hostess served lunch.

The next meeting will be held at the hospital Thursday evening when Dr. Keyport will talk to the members on the fluoroscope and X-ray.

Mrs. Clippert came to Grayling with her husband, Dr. Clippert, last spring. The Musical News of April 13, 1923 published the following:

HELEN WEBB CLIPPERT

After giving an audition to Helen Webb Clippert, Oscar Saenger said to her: "You possess an unusual coloratura voice and have great talent." This is but a reflection and a restatement of what has been said to and about Helen Webb Clippert by many other people—professional and layman.

Mrs. Clippert is a Michigan girl and came to her early study in Detroit, where she also taught for three years at the Detroit Conservatory of Music.

During this period of her career she was soloist in several churches, both in Detroit and Lansing, Mich., and the pastor of one of the largest churches of the latter city wrote of her, "Mrs. Clippert is appreciated by this entire city as a singer of musical talent."

She appeared in Detroit in many clubs and social organizations, and won there a great mass of approval. The Free Press for instance, saying "Helen Webb Clippert has a coloratura voice of most sympathetic quality and in interpretation of both words and music is perfect."

The engagements of this time were extended also to Owosso, Bay City and Green Bay in Michigan, Davenport, Iowa, and Windsor, and Bradford, Canada, in all of which cities she was received with much acclaim by both press and public.

Since coming to Chicago Mrs. Clippert has studied with Vittorio Treviani, Isaac Van Grove, Sophia Stephens and others, and it was Stephens herself a favorite pupil of Mrs. Blanche Cappelletti who said of her: "Mrs. Clippert is the possessor of a beautiful coloratura soprano voice, wide range, strong personality and excellent mentality, as well as splendid interpretative ability."

Donald Robertson, in Chicago, after hearing her sing, said of her: "She has a truly wonderful voice—filled with the mystery of song."

Besides the appearance at Orchestra Hall last October, which was noted in Music News columns, Mrs. Clippert has sung in Chicago for the American Writers Club, the West Side Co-Educational Club, the Friends of American Writers, Washington Park Woman's Club and many other societies and clubs.

She has sung several times at the Pantheon Theater for the Dr. Preston Bradley Church services (this being the largest congregation in Chicago), and such has been her success that there was a concerted request from

Xmas Cantata

"TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY" WAS BEAUTIFULLY RENDERED

The choir of Michelson Memorial church assisted by several ladies and gentlemen rendered the beautiful Christmas cantata, "Tidings of Great Joy" under the direction of Mrs. Emil Jarmin, organist and choir director of the church. Rev. Young of Gaylord has a fine tenor voice very ably assisted.

The church was filled to its capacity and every one was very much pleased with the rendition of the sacred music.

"Hearken unto Me" sung by the choir was the opening chorus. This was followed by a duet by Mrs. Milnes and Rev. Young.

"Oh, Come Emmanuel" a tenor solo by Rev. Young.

"Therefore the Redeemed Shall Return" Quartet, Fred Alexander, Mr. Burnham, Mr. Jarmin, Rev. Young.

"My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord" was a solo sung by Mrs. Milnes, in which the choir joined.

"Pastorale 'Silent Night.'" Mrs. Jarmin, Miss Cavanaugh, Mr. Alexander, Rev. Young.

"There were Shepherds" soprano solo. Miss Cottle with violin solo. Larsen-Hansen.

"The Virgin's Cradle Hymn" contralto solo was sung by Mrs. Jarmin assisted by the male quartet.

"Christ was Born on Christmas Day" choir.

"Quest of the Magi" Men's chorus, solo part sung by Mr. Burnham.

"Come and Worship" Final chorus sung by the choir.

The choir numbers were very well rendered while every one of the solo parts were exceptionally well.

"Tidings of Great Joy" is written and composed by E. L. Ashford. The story leads up to the Birth of the Christ Child and the Joy following.

Mrs. Jarmin and the choir have given a lot of time, energy and interest to the Cantata and the success of their efforts are very much appreciated by those attending the entertainment. Mrs. Geigling is an able director as was shown by the rendition. Rev. Young was wonderfully assisted. He possesses a clear, well trained tenor voice which was prominent throughout the Cantata.

The entertainment was one of the finest of its kind given in Grayling for some time.

the congregation that she be the special soloist for Easter Sunday morning services.

At that time she sang the aria from "Pearl of Brazil" (with flute obligato by Mr. Kittle of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra) and also the "Inflammatus" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater" in which she scored a complete success—at this service applause is permitted and the audience of more than 3,000 in the great theater made the rafters ring again with the consensus of approval.

PASTOR GIVEN "POUND SOCIAL"

Monday evening of last week Pastor Grandall and wife of Frederic were honored with a "Pound social" given for them by the members of their church and other friends.

It was held at the School auditorium of that town and was attended by about 80 people.

Each of the guests came with a package, full weight, containing almost everything imaginable in the way of food stuffs, enough to stock the larder of the pastor's home for some time to come.

Besides this feature there was a general good time enjoyed by all. Supt. J. W. Payne gave a very good address of welcome to the new pastor and his wife and assured them of the good fellowship of the citizens of Frederic.

For a little entertainment some of the men present organized themselves into basket ball teams—old times mostly, with "Wood Cutters" Floyd Goshorn and School Secretary C. S. Barber as captains. Scores were 4 to 6 in favor of the "Wood Cutters."

It wasn't in the program but Goshorn and E. A. Corsaut contributed to the excitement when both had to be carried off the floor by stretcher, the having stopped too quickly to avoid getting a few teeth knocked out and a few other injuries. No casualties were reported however they were narrowly averted, according to reports. Albert Lewis as guard made a good "back stop" for he occupied so much space that nobody could get by him; and the ball went "fuzzy" whenever it happened to hit him.

It is claimed to have been a good game and was enjoyed greatly as was the other features of the evening.

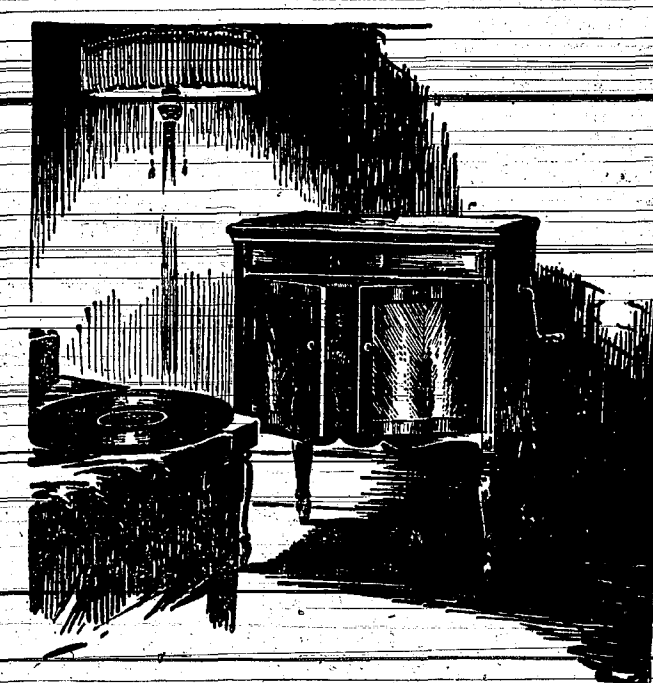

E. M. T. SIGNS MEAN COURTEOUS TREATMENT.

Howard J. Moseley, of Massillon, Ohio, who answered one of the East Michigan Tourist association's advertisements early the past season, and then visited East Michigan with a party of five spent 15 days on Higgins lake in a cottage. Writing to the association, he says: "Where E. M. T. signs were displayed, the treatment was very courteous." Mr. Moseley will undoubtedly look for E. M. T. signs on subsequent trips to East Michigan.

RE-PRINTS EAST MICHIGAN ARTICLES.

Parks and Playgrounds, a publication with national circulation that retails at $15 per copy, contains two articles taken from the special 1925 East Michigan edition of "See America First," the East Michigan Tourist.

The "Isle of Pure Delight" by Frank A. Kenyon, and "The Trek to the Great Outdoors" by W. B. Mershon. These are the only Michigan articles in the book. Another example of E. M. T. Service.

Slants on Life

By J. A. WALDRON

The Lesser of Two Evils

"SAX: Margery! Do you know what I've had a mind to do this evening?"

Harold Clarence Bilberry was at table with Mrs. Bilberry. They had passed the first anniversary of married life. Mrs. Bilberry was formerly Margery Gollightly, comedienne. No body had ever charged her with committing matrimony with any other aim than elegant leisure—at least nobody who had ever seen Harold Clarence. This evening she had noted with apprehension that her husband had not dressed for dinner. This surprise had kept her, throughout the function, from indulging her accustomed and acute desire to yawn in his company. Apparently he embodied the intellectual denier resort.

"Why, no, dear. Of course I don't. I suppose you'll go to a club, as usual, and enjoy yourself."

"Haw-haw! I thought I should puzzle you! Really, I've had a mind to spend the evening with you!"

"Oh!"

This exclamation has more than one possibility. It may express surprise, pain, sorrow, anxiety or a wish. It all depends upon the tone and manner. A thoughtful third person, had one been present, might have drawn an interesting conclusion from Mrs. Bilberry's interjection. As it was, there were but two or three servants about. They were busy clearing away.

"Yes, you see, it's really, how long is it? I mean, you know, since I've spent an evening with you—in the bosom of my family! Haw-haw! That's clever, isn't it? I mean the bosom of my family."

Mrs. Bilberry looked at Harold Clarence uneasily and censured another yawn. "Why, I don't remember. How long is it?"

"That's just what I was awaking James before dinner. I told him he needn't wait about to dress me to-

THE ARTIFICIAL SUN

For a five-year-old who is not asleep, Little Lota lies very still indeed. But the reason that she lies so still is that her leg is in a cast. She has tuberculosis of the hip, and tuberculosis of the eyes. Here she is being given a treatment with the ultra-violet ray—one of the greatest of modern discoveries in the treatment of tuberculosis.

the day he married Margery Gollightly. "Don't you enjoy yourself at one of your clubs—at all of your clubs?"

"I should say I did! Only last evening, at the Trailers, I heard a conundrum that amused me fiercely. 'What is the difference? It went, 'between war and the road?'"

"And what is the difference?"

"Why, between the war and the road?"

"Aw—yes. It was something, you know, about the Kaiser and Nihil. And it was amusing. Devilishly so, I assure you, my dear."

"It must have been," Mrs. Bilberry could not censor a yawn this time. But she lost her languor in a moment. The bell rang. A servant appeared with a card. Harold Clarence took it.

"Junius Brutus Bunk. Who's he?"

"That sounds like a—aw—aw—a theater person." Harold Clarence turned to the servant. "Aw—what does he want?"

"The servant seemed embarrassed. 'I've an appointment with him,' said Mrs. Bilberry. 'He is a theater manager.'"

"Aw—aw—an appointment? What about my dear?"

"I'm going back on the stage," (Copyright.)

Curbing Blood Pressure

A new treatment for curbing high blood pressure has been discovered. It consists of hypodermic injections of extracts of the liver. According to Dr. W. J. MacDonald of St. Catherine's, Canada, in 33 clinical cases already treated the pressure has been reduced. On the average, he says, the patients treated have been known to be subject to high blood pressure for six years before treatment. Patients whose pressures have been running over 200 for years require one dose a week to keep their pressures under 150.

Healthy and Home

FOOD FOR CHILDREN WHO TRAVEL

Many times, and especially during the summer months, mothers are forced to take their children on trips with them. During these trips, the parent is forced to contend with that ever-present and serious problem of food for the child.

As in almost every other case, the chief source of worry, during these periods, is the milk supply. Its source, its purity and its food value. It is not always convenient to get market milk of dependable quality for, in many sections of the country, adequate facilities for its care are not provided. To meet the needs of mothers in these trying situations, science has provided a form of milk, conveniently carried and easily prepared. The cans are in two sizes, the one containing six ounces and the other sixteen.

Evaporated milk is just pure cows' milk with more than half of the water removed. None of its food value is lost, in fact, its digestibility is improved. It is easily mixed with water and is, undoubtedly, the most practical form of milk for use as a food for children. Some of the country's leading pediatricians recommend its use, employing the following formula:

From Sixth Week to Third Month.
Milk, evaporated 4 ounces
Lime water 1 ounce
Milk sugar 2 ounces
Boiled water 24 ounces
Six feedings in twenty-four hours: 4 to 5 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and a feeding at 10 p. m.

From Third Month to Fifth Month.
Milk, evaporated 1 1/4 ounces
Lime water 1/2 ounce
Milk sugar 1 ounce
Boiled water 24 ounces
Six feedings in twenty-four hours: 4 to 5 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and a feeding at 10 p. m.

From Fifth to Seventh Month.
Milk, evaporated 16 ounces
Lime water 3 ounces
Milk sugar 2 ounces
Boiled water 24 ounces
Five feedings in twenty-four hours: 6 to 7 ounces at four-hour intervals, the last feeding to be given at 10 p. m.

From Seventh to Ninth Month.
Milk, evaporated 11 ounces
Lime water 2 ounces
Milk sugar 1 1/2 ounces
Boiled water 35 ounces
Four to 5 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day. Last feeding at ten p. m.

From Ninth to Twelfth Month.
Milk, evaporated 12 ounces
Lime water 2 ounces
Milk sugar 1 ounce
Boiled water 34 ounces
4 to 5 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day. Last feeding at ten p. m.

Christmas Lesson for Miss Belinda

Promise to Teach Maid to Read and Write, Most Welcome Gift.

By EMILY BURKS ADAMS

CHRISTMAS was in evidence everywhere. The whole household was happy, save perhaps one. Belinda, the German maid, who had for six months lived with the Thoburns, a well-to-do family.

"Sure, Mrs. Thoburn, I've done all I thought is right to do already, and I'm pleased to see you like it."

"Yes, Belinda, and the house never looked prettier. You're quite an artist as well as a cook. I'm glad you gave up going to visit your sister, for the good dinner tomorrow depends upon you. We shall try to make it up to you, Belinda, in some way."

"Oh, do you think so, Mrs. Thoburn? I am sure pleased to know that I am of service to you, and you are so good to me already."

"I am glad to hear that," said Belinda, with a sigh, as she retired to her room.

The Thoburns, old and young, were radio enthusiasts, and were being entertained with Christmas greetings and carols.

"Mother, did you notice that Belinda seemed sad—something unusual for her? I wonder if we have gotten her enough for Christmas—let's see—there's her beads, handkerchief, hose. She will feel all right tomorrow. She really doesn't mind missing the visit with her sister, does she? She'd rather be doing all this for us, for serving others is what makes one happy, isn't it, mother?"

"Oh, yes, I suppose so, if the service isn't too hard."

"Mother, what do you mean by service being too hard? I think we should enjoy doing things for others. I can never forget the quotation: 'To live in the hearts of others is not to die! I think we should enjoy doing things for others and not think it hard. What?'"

"Well," interrupted Mrs. Thoburn, "you seem to think service hard, as you wouldn't write those letters for Belinda last evening, and one was a Christmas letter to her sister. That, probably was the cause of her sigh."

"Any way, listening in and heard over the radio: 'Let every true American, as a gift to himself, give the promise that he will teach one foreigner how to read and write, and in so doing, help drive illiteracy from our land. A wonderful gift to yourself and to the one taught—'As ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto Me.' Merry Christmas to all."

Amy looked at the others, her face beaming. "Oh, mother, our slogan for Educational week was: 'Each one teach one; ballots, not bullets.'"

"A fine slogan, Amy, if put into practice," remarked Mrs. Thoburn.

Christmas morning all gathered around the tree to open their packages. Belinda stood in the background, beaming at the happiness of the others, for next to our own happiness is watching that of others. Box after box was handed to Belinda, but the most beautiful of all was saved until last and presented by Amy.

"Here, Belinda, a lot of love with this box; it contains paper, pencils, and a book and my promise to you that I'll teach you to read and write before another Christmas."

"Oh, thank you, Miss Amy; this is not I most wanted already. Gott bless you!"

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Don't disappoint her again!

The fact that you may have thought about giving her a Hoover last year, for Christmas, has not eased her tasks during these long intervening months.

She is still sacrificing her time and strength with carpet beater and broom, when a Hoover would beat, sweep and clean her rugs electrically, dustlessly.

Don't disappoint her again, this Christmas! She has long looked forward to the day when she, like millions of other women, can be freed of cleaning drudgery.

Make The Hoover your gift to her. Let us show you how completely it solves her hardest problem of cleaning. And it's easy to buy.

Next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 18, 19 and 20 the quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist church will be held at the South side church. Rev. H. O. Wilcox of Wolverine will preside over the meetings. He will preach on all evenings. All are welcome. L. S. Davison, Pastor.

About fifty ladies enjoyed a party at the Michelson Memorial church Friday afternoon. The ladies of the Aid were the hostesses and the ladies of the Danish church were the guests of honor. A splendid musical program was given consisting of violin solos, very well received. He was accompanied by Mrs. B. E. Smith. And vocal solos by Mrs. Clippert which were beautifully rendered. The guests were then escorted to the dining room where a very attractive lunch was served.

Andy Hart was 60 years of age last week Friday and to celebrate the momentous occasion invited a number of friends to his home for evening dinner. The banquet was served by Mrs. Edwards, assisted by Mrs. Edwin S. Chalker and Mrs. John Speck, and the men surely enjoyed the fine chicken and other good things. There were 19 guests present and left Mr. Hart in memory of the event a handsome Masonic ring, which was pleasingly presented by Melvin A. Bates. The evening was spent in playing pinocchio and listening to the radio. Mr. Hart, who is our accommodating county register of deeds, was extended best wishes for many years to come.

DEMONTATION TRAIN COMES TO NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Under the auspices of the N. E. Michigan Development Bureau and thru the cooperation of the Michigan State College, the State Conservation Commission, and the Michigan Central and D. & M. railroads, a demonstration train is going to tour northeastern Michigan which will sound the battle cry against the devastation of our forests and cut-over lands by forest fires. This train, traveling over the Michigan Central railroad and D. & M. Railroad, will carry a two-fold message—first, data and information on the seriousness of forest fires and the methods of suppressing them; second, how to clear land most efficiently thru war-salvage explosives.

As soon as this portion of the state is covered, the "train" will be taken across the Straits and will be operated on the four railroads in the Upper Peninsula under the direction of the U. P. Development Bureau. As far as the forest-fire prevention phase is concerned, this is the first train of its kind in the country. "No one can say that the message is not of vital importance to this section of the state—in fact, our tourist business, our hunting and fishing attraction, agriculture, our future forest, yes, our entire welfare depends on the prevention of forest fires," says Mr. T. F. Marston, Secretary of the N. E. Michigan Development Bureau, and also a member of the State Conservation Commission. "We must present a solid front against our greatest enemy and I hope that the people in northeastern Michigan will all take advantage of this opportunity to see the exhibits and hear the messages on prevention and caution."

The land-clearing department of the Michigan State College will be represented on this train by Mr. L. F. Livingston and Mr. N. A. Kessler. Attractive exhibits and charts as well as lectures and personal interviews on the subject of efficient land-clearing and the use of pyrotol will be presented for the benefit of those interested. The danger of starting forest fires thru carelessness in land clearing will be emphasized, according to Mr. Kessler. He added, "For probably the last time, we are going to call the attention of the farmers to the necessity of buying pyrotol before it is too late. It is a bargain such as is seldom offered to anyone."

Secretary Edgar Cockrun of the Conservation Department and Commissioner Herman Lunden will represent the Department and the Commission on this tour. Mr. Cockrun is a very forceful speaker and will make the leading address at each stop. The train will be under the direction of the Agricultural Department of the New York Central lines, represented by Mr. W. H. Hill and Mr. E. J. Leenwats, while in Michigan Central territory.

According to advice received from Mr. Leenwats who is actively in charge, the schedule has not been completely laid out. He said, "Owing to the long schedule and the limited time, we are selecting only those places where we are assured a large amount of local interest. We are going to let the local people fix the schedule on the Michigan Central—an assurance of whole-hearted cooperation and interest will do the trick. We plan to get under way February 5th."

Merry Open House on Christmas Eve

Seamstress Finds a Warm Welcome and Assists at Social Function.

By MARTHA BANNING THOMAS

BACON HILL was ablaze with candles. They shone in every window. They gleamed through the glass panes of the doorways. Tall candles, short candles; candles of every size and color. For was it not Christmas Eve? And is it not a custom to make merry at this special time in a very charming way?

Groups of Carolers Stood at Street Corners and Sang.

Groups of carolers stood at street corners and sang. Hundreds of people strolled up and down. There was an atmosphere of good will that pervaded the place as surely as wreaths hung in the windows.

There was one house in particular that glowed with a shining brilliance. Part of this light was due to a pyramid formation of candles on the window-sill, and part came from the happy sounds which issued forth through the open door. This place was keeping "open house" with a vengeance. It looked like a glorified Christmas card.

Miss Mixer never knew exactly how it happened. She was hurrying home after a hard day's sewing in a dressmaker's shop. She was tired and hungry. Christmas Eve to her merely meant that she was wearier than usual. She stopped for a moment to look in through the door of this happy, shining house. And then, almost unaware of what she did, she walked in. Yes, she actually did. And she had no more idea of who lived there than a maple tree on Boston Common! Something drew her straight to the fireplace. She went as naturally as a bee seeks honey.

In that merry, well-dressed throng she looked a bit rusty. Her hat was entirely too old. There was something wrong in the cut of her coat. Her gloves had seen hard service. And her shoes, well—her shoes were the despair of cobblers.

Miss Mixer began talking to a laughing-eyed woman dressed in green. "You look like a daffodil," said Miss Mixer. And this pleased her hostess so much that she burst into a peal of merriment.

From that moment they seemed to have a great deal to say to each other. Then, suddenly looking about her, Miss Mixer saw she was the center of attention. Dozens of interested people were regarding her with amused eyes.

A quick reaction swept over her. She felt lonely and afraid. Why was she here? Who were these people? Why had she come into this house? She felt a quiet hand on her arm. "Do stay, won't you?" begged the hostess in green. "I need someone to help me. Couldn't you spare a moment on Christmas Eve?—I did a daffodil! Just keep your eye on these people and tell me who is served and who is not. It's so difficult."

Miss Mixer looked up keenly into the smiling face. And she knew she was genuinely wanted. "I'll stay," announced Miss Mixer. "and," she grew spiteful, "the first person who needs a cup of coffee is myself."

Christmas Song

Why do bells for Christmas ring?
Why do little children sing?

Once a lovely, shining star,
Seen by shepherds far and near,
Gently moved until its light
Made a manger cradle bright.
There a darling baby lay
Followed soft among the hay,
And his mother sang and smiled,
"This is Christ, the Holy Child."

So the bells for Christmas ring,
So the little children sing.

JENS JORGENSEN PASSED AWAY

Was Resident of Grayling 39 Years.

Jens Jorgenson, a resident of Grayling for 39 years, and a well known citizen passed away at his home at ten o'clock Monday forenoon, after being ill for some time. High blood pressure was the cause of death. Jens Jorgenson was born in Falster, Denmark May 18, 1860. He grew to manhood in his native country and when old enough to work learned the carpenter trade.

Thanksgiving Day in the year 1886 Mr. Jorgenson arrived in Grayling from Denmark, and this has been his home since. Sometime after coming here he was united in marriage to Miss Cecelia Hanson, and to them one son Axel was born, who together with the wife survives.

Mr. Jorgenson was employed for many years for Salling, Hanson Co., acting as foreman and millwright and at one time had charge of the operations of one of the mills. He was faithful to his employer at all times and could always be depended upon. He had many friends among whom he was more familiarly known as "Jim".

The funeral of the deceased was held Wednesday afternoon with services at the Danish Lutheran church, Rev. Kjolhede conducting same. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery. Besides his wife and son he is survived by one brother, Peter F. Jorgenson of this city.

Aladdin's Lamp

Long ago, in those fascinating tales, "The Arabian Nights," Aladdin found an old lamp among some rubbish. It did not look very good. Nowadays we would speak of it as a "bum-old thing".

Something led Aladdin to clean up the lamp by a little rubbing, when behold the lamp had power to give or bring to Aladdin anything he wanted. He straightway began to work the lamp hard if not overtime.

For generations, fair damsels have read that story and sighed and wished for beauty, lovers, high estate and luxury.

For generations, boys have read that story and have looked off into space and imagined themselves as daring pirates, or at the head of conquering armies, or owners of great castles, or wealthy, or leaders at the bar, or invincible in the Senate.

They have unconsciously sighed and wished that the days were not past in which a polished lamp could help on to such results.

Men nor maid need not, however, in this day be accomplished, and coveted possessions be secured, especially by the young by polishing, not Aladdin's lamp, which could be possessed by only one, but by polishing the mind possessed by each.

Readers of the American Magazine have had a wealth of proof, in the last few years, that young native Americans, and young immigrants, ignorant and penniless in either case, have been able to rise to dizzy heights of wealth or learning or eminence in business by polishing not the lamp of metal, but the lamp of the mind and the ambition.

In this latter sense there is a lamp for each of us. It is not necessary that we use it.

Too many of our farm boys and girls are not polishing their Aladdin's lamp. In too many instances they are not encouraged to polish the lamp of the mind to see what the spirit of success can bring forth.

Not Much Time; Yet, It's Enough. The magic lamp now nearest at hand for Crawford County's young people is the lamp of well selected reading faithfully used this winter, of which we spoke last week.

The next, and so near that it far too often overlooked, is the lamp of the Short Courses at our Agricultural College.

Thousands have polished this lamp in the last few years, and the geni have brought valuable gifts to the polisher.

These Short Courses soon begin—right after the holidays in fact.

Which Is Yours

On January 4th will begin:

8 weeks short course in Dairy Production.

8 weeks short course in Dairy Manufacture.

8 weeks short course in Horticulture (fruit).

4 weeks short course in Poultry.

January 25, Market Gardener's short course for one week.

February 8, Fruit Grower's Short Course for one week.

February 8, Bee-keepers Course for two weeks.

February 8, Truck and Tractor Short Course for four weeks.

March 8, Truck and Tractor Short Course for four weeks.

March 8, Ice Cream Makers Course for two weeks.

A Sound Investment.

Have we not a dozen parents in the county who will urge their son or daughter to take one of these courses?

Have we not a dozen young people who will determine to go?

Parents could, in many cases, sell for beef a steer or two, or two cows that are not paying their way, and give the boy the 8 weeks Short Course in Agriculture. The first year farming afterwards would be done enough better to pay back the small cost.

Give the girl a Poultry Course, or Course in Horticulture (fruit and bees) if you have to borrow the money. After a Poultry Course, the poultry could be made to do enough better in 1926 to more than repay the cost.

Don't Do It Up

In preparing to go, don't go and buy a lot of good clothes. You don't go down to College to knock 'em cold with your clothes. Rather dazzle them with what you can do with your mind. Plain clothes, that you wear to town on Saturday will do.

Expenses are low. The main expense is for car fare, board and room. The average total expense for an 8 weeks course is $70 to $100. Shorter courses cost less. Some people may regard this as a large sum of money; but it is an investment that lasts for life. It is repaid not only in a financial way, but in great mental improvement, an enlarged circle of friends, a fuller, deeper and broader understanding of the world in which we live.

No entrance examinations. No age limit. Some years ago, while conducting a Farmer's Institute at Potoskey, I met a lady, seventy years of age, who had just returned from taking the Poultry Short Course, with which she was delighted.

Use Your County Agent

Your County Agent knows the ropes down at the College. He can help you get a room, and figure how much money you need, and tell you just how and where to go. Call him up by telephone, or write him, or call at his office and talk it over with him.

Nothing to Dread in Going down to the College.

Pleasant professors. Delightful surroundings. Spirit of good-will among students. Plenty of others in your classes who have never been there before either. Very little book-work. Instruction mostly by talks by instructors, and by doing.

7000 have already graduated from

Short Courses, why can't you? You have the right to a chance as well as other folks.

Don't neglect to polish Aladdin's lamp this winter.

HEALTH FOR MILLIONS

To teach 110,000,000 people the value of health before they lose it is the tremendous task set for themselves by the National, State, and Local Tuberculosis Associations. For nearly twenty years they have been engaged in this gigantic educational campaign. The money for this work has been supplied through the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas seals. The sale this year is the eighteenth annual sale.

Giant Ocean Fish

Well-out-of-sight, but probably in the twilight zone—where food is more abundant and conditions are practically the same in all the oceans except the extreme north and south, live giant squids and cuttles of several kinds, the largest reaching a total length of at least 35 feet, with the body 20 feet long and 12 feet in circumference, and the eye opening 7 by 9 inches.

Man Sleeps Like Dog Eats Anything

"After taking Adlerika I can eat anything and sleep like a log. I had gas on the stomach and couldn't keep food down nor sleep." Signed R. C. Miller. One spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Often brings out old waste-matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for chronic constipation. Mac & Gidley, Druggists.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves the irritation and restores the internal medicine, a tonic, which assists in improving the general health. Sold by druggists for over 40 years.
